AUCTION SALE, FRIDAY, DEC. 15

I have been employed by Mr. Hunter to sell the entire furnishings of his six-room home at 711 South Arno street. The furnishings of this home cost over $2,600. Below you will see a partial list of what will be sold: Living room suit consisting of $85 day lounge, $50 library table, rockers and chairs to match; this suit is the same as now; two bedroom suites, one in old ivory; the old ivory suite consists of one $35 dresser, one $35 chiffonier, bed and chairs to match; the walnut suite consists of one $135 vanity dresser, one $115 chiffonier, bed, rocker, and chairs to match; this is solid walnut, not imitation or veneered, but solid walnut; something that is hard to find in furniture stores nowadays; $425 dining room suite, consisting of dining table, buffet, china closet, serving table and six leather upholstered chairs and is a beauty; four Axminster rugs, 9x12, and they are of the best quality; iron bed, oak dresser, Hoosier kitchen cabinet, refrigerator, and a big lot of other articles not mentioned in this ad. Now if you want to make a new Christmas gift here is where you can find it, as these goods are all just the same as new; never used by sick and have had the best of care; and no better furniture could be found elsewhere. This furniture will appeal to the most discriminating persons. The house will be open the 15th from 9 a. m. till 5:30 p. m., time of sale. So you may inspect the furniture and select what you may want to buy. Don't forget the date, December 15, place 711 South Arno street, time 2:30 p. m. Come and be with the crowd. The house is also for rent.

J. L. GOBER, Auctioneer.
